The DIMMER VIEW

Vision of Happiness

Lions Clubs in this area, together with those of the southwest district labeled 4-L-6, are in the second year of a 5-year project.

It is as fun-filled as it is useful. The immediate beneficiaries are some 7,000 people who will see the San Diego State University football team (5-1) play Florida State University (now 6-1) Saturday November 19 evening at the San Diego Stadium.

Long-term beneficiaries will be youngsters who have benefitted by the myriad kid programs espoused by Lions clubs in Spring Valley, Lemon Grove and others in San Diego County.

Part of the proceeds go into an interest-bearing fund from which scholarship funds will be drawn to aid worthy SDSU students.

Last year when the Lions sponsored its first Aztec game, $3,000 went into the Lemon Grove Lions charities fund and $1,600 was deposited in the scholarship account.

District chairman of the event is Bob Russell, a Lemon Grove businessman. Finance chairman is Lemon Grove Attorney Wallace Dorman.

Russell has been president of the Lemon Grove Club, zone chairman, and later, cabinet secretary, the latter being a prestigious appointment. He has been chairman of most of the Lions club committees including the Sight Committee. As Lions-Aztec Football chairman this year, he views the activity happily.

Russell said sales have already surpassed last season's effort and, at the same time, it was two weeks to kickoff. Last year ticket sales totaled 2,200. This year 3,000 have been sold.

Vision has long been big with Lions. They established an eye bank in San Diego and provide eye examinations to kindergarten students each year. Most of the members "hit the streets" in October in their annual White Cane Days. Funds from the sale of the miniature white canes goes exclusively to eye care for children. Many youngsters in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley right now are wearing glasses supplied by this activity.

The fun part, other than the pleasure each finds in helping kids, will be the fun at the game. Scores of tailgate parties are being planned and companionship is a strong element in Lionism.

There will be chartered buses for those who want to see the game without all of the pre-game activity. Details of the bus schedules can be obtained from Dorman at 469-2147 or Russell at 469-3277. And, of course, tickets may be obtained by the same call.

The S.V. Fire District Election

There is an election Tuesday in the Spring Valley Fire Protection District. There is none in Lemon Grove.

In Lemon Grove the City Council took over the operation of the fire department November 1. The Council and the directors of the Fire District approved the conversion on October 24. County Council, in a burst of intelligence not always apparent in bureaucratic operations, agreed that a special election would not be needed to get the Fire Department through the 6 days of limbo between the agreement to convert and the official date of conversion.

This sensible solution saved the cost of an election — some $4,000. That saving will continue since there need not be another Fire Department election ever. City Council are now the Department's directors.

In Spring Valley, the election goes on as scheduled Tuesday. The vote is expected to be light. That makes every vote more meaningful.

For those who need a sense of direction, we recommend that Art Schafer and Wallace "Bunky" McPherson be returned to the board. This decision is based on a personal acquaintanceship with the men from which their integrity can be measured, and from observation of performance on the Board by which their business acumen is discernible.

But for whomever, vote Tuesday.

Welcoming Committee Named By LG Chamber of Commerce

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce has designated a three member committee to welcome new businessmen to Lemon Grove.

The Chamber membership, led by President Griff Clark, named Suzi Strom, Chamber Vice President Olin Thompson, and Lemon Grove City Councilman Del Lake to the committee. Strom will serve as chairman.

Chamber President Griff Clark said the purpose of committee would be to present plaques to new businessmen in the city as an official welcome.

"It is a project to build good will among new businessmen in Lemon Grove," Clark added.

Also reported in Thursday's meeting was a new plan in the works to change the membership dues policy.

I'LL RENT IT! — Pat Sullivan, of Pat's Rentals, Spring Valley, installed as treasurer of the California Rental Assn. checks agenda with Roger Beck, right, while CRA's annual convention was being held in San Diego last week. Beck is public relations specialist with the 850 member organization.

S.V. Man Named Treasurer Of Calif. (Equip) Rental Assn.

Local equipment rental entrepreneurs had leadership part in the annual California Rental Assn. convention attended by more than 3,500 people at the Town & Country Convention Cnter.

Pat Sullivan, of Spring Valley was elected treasurer; Allen Perry, of Jim's U-Rent conducted a seminar, while Bob Serr, head of Jim's was convention chairman, and he, too, conducted a seminar.

Sullivan noted that the equipment rental business has grown astronomically in the past few years.

It simply costs too much for people to buy some of equipment they use only occasionally," Sullivan said. "Our firm, like most others, rents everything from posthole diggers to bulldozers. Renting equipment is popular with the consumer. He gets a piece of equipment, probably better than he would buy, and when he gets it it is in good condition."

Sullivan started his firm with "2½ people" in 1959. "My wife was pregnant," he said.

S.V. POST OFFICE — The new main post office for Spring Valley will be located in Rancho San Diego at Sweetwater Springs blvd. and Austin drive. Construction is under way and completion of the 18,300 sq ft. building is scheduled for June, 1978.

Construction Begins for New Post Office in S.V.

Construction has started on the new main post office for Spring Valley, located in Rancho San Diego at the northwest corner of Sweetwater Springs blvd. and Austin dr.

Completion is set for June, 1978 and the cost is estimated at $923,000.

The Spring Valley Post Office is planned for 18,300 sq. ft. of interior area, three times the size of the existing structure at 1157 Sweetwater road.

Postmaster W. H. Fitzpatrick said the building has served as the main post office since 1962. He added the mail volume and 60 employees had long outgrown the facility.

The new Spring Valley Post Office was designed by San Diego architect Richard George Wheeler and will be constructed by Ninteman Construction Company of San Diego.

"The new post office is a welcome addition to the planned residential community of Rancho San Diego," said Frank R. Parks, general manager of Rancho San Diego Land Co., a Del E. Webb California, Inc. subsidiary.

The single story post office will present a long, low profile with mission tile roof and slump block exterior walls.

Five columns of slump block stand at the building's entry. Three sets of glass doors form the access to the post office's colorful interior. Parking will be provided for 22 cars between the building and the street, rimmed by landscaped areas.

Council Agenda Lists Urgency Ordinances

The Lemon Grove City Council has some urgent matters on its agenda for the 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday at the L.G. Education Center, Kempf and Lincoln sts.

There's a hearing on the SDG&E franchise application.

There's an urgency hearing on municipal and zoning codes as well as a sanitation district matter in which the Board of Supervisors will be designated as directors of the S.V. Sanitation District.

A bingo ordinance will be discussed as well as the Central Baptist church's request for aid in averting having to install expensive curbs, gutters and sidewalks on the projected extension of College ave. — an extension which is not scheduled to be constructed.

Also, a report will be studied regarding the proposed abandonment of the SDA&E RR right of way.

Change in Courts In Peoples' Hands Says DA's Howatt

Citizens are more interested in the criminal justice system than might be believed.

At least that was the indication Monday when William Howatt, supervisary deputy of the district attorney's east county office talked to the Lemon Grove Rotary club.

He reminded that the complaints that revolve about the light penalties and early releases of criminals and be resolved by concerned people.

"It's your system of justice and if you don't take part in it, it won't change," he said.

"Get involved in the court system if you don't like it. Go to court. Take the kids. Learn how it operates. Courts do what the appelate division and supreme court orders. Legislation can make changes and those who make their vote meaningful can bring about change," he said.

Howatt explained that determinate sentencing could reduce a criminal's prison term dramatically. If the law requires a 3-year term, the judge, by law, must give him 2 in most instances. The criminal ask as hearing and the term is automatically reduced to 1 year. He is then given one-third off for good behavior. All of the above are automatic. The 3-year term is completed in 8 months. Credit is also given for jail time while awaiting sentencing, he said.

The few people, other than those involved in cases, we see in court as watchers are usually senior citizens. I suspect some them attend court as an avocation," he said.

In noting that his deputies were dedicated, hard-working officials, he said that so far this year they had contributed 2,100 hours in non recorded overtime.

The Rotary meeting, at the Bowlero, was presided over by John Stenbeck.

VdO Planning Assn. To Meet November 16

ICE CAPADES ADVANCE REPRESENTATIVE — Pretty Nancy Clayton, a former Lemon Grove girl (San Altos) who lived on La Corta circle, is now an official wi.h the nationally famous ice show. She holds two large dolls which are dressed in costumes which are replicas of the ones worn by Ice Capade skaters. The show comes to San Diego Tuesday.

Former Lemon Grove Schoolgirl Now Ice Capades Advanceman

Nancy Clayton has succeeded at doing what most pretty young ladies have dreamed of doing. She's in show biz — but at the best of all levels.

She's advance representative for 37th edition of the Ice Capades, the famed ice show which opens Tuesday at the S.D. Sports Arena.

Clayton's job consists of traveling 21,000 miles over a period of 9 months visiting newspapers, childrens' hospitals, exclusive shops and making television appearances with the dolls.

The dolls are valued at $5,000 each because they are dressed precisely in the costumes the skaters wear and Clayton displays them anywhere she thinks she can attract the attention of the media.

Nancy Clayton attended San Altos school during her residence here. When her parents sold their home they moved to El Cajon and attended high school there and went on to San Diego State University where she was graduated with a degree in advertising.

It was there, in a course in radio advertising sales, that she met a executive from KOGO radio who put her in touch with Jeyne Brown, vice president of advertising and publicity for Ice Capades. She got the job of advance representative and started with the show in August at Duluth. So far, she says, she is doing a creditable job.

While here she is visiting with her parents — the Melvin Claytons who now live on Bently dr., in Spring Valley. Her brother, Ronald, teaches at San Miguel school in Lemon Grove.

8 Candidates Slated In S.V. Fire Election

Tuesday's election for one two-year term and two four-year seats on the Spring Valley Fire District Board of Directors will slate two incumbants against six challengers.

Challengers in the race for held by Wallace S. (Bunky) McPherson are Betty L. Green, a construction secretary and attendance secretary for the Valle de Oro Planning Assn., and Daniel A. Phillips, an operating engineer.

McPherson was appointed to the post last year following the death of Stanley Totten.

The candidates slated for the two four-year terms are incumbent Art Schafer who seeks his third term, retired civil service planner William McNelly, special education teacher John T. Mergens, insurance agent Preston R. Bankhead, and real estate investment consultant Emil S. Caldwell.

The Board of Elections expect a light voter turnout since there are no other issues to be decided on the ballot.

There will be no election for members of the Lemon Grove Fire Department Board since the board's powers were officially transferred to the city councilmen on October 24 and County Counsel decreed that no election need be held for the 7 days until November 1 when the transfer became effective.

Adventists Take Hard Line On Ordaining Women Pastors

Washington, D. C. — The highest administrative body of the Seventh Day Adventist Church has for the third consecutive year, refused to ordain women to the ministry.

The Annual Council ruled the church took action to name women who were engaged in ministerial roles "associates in pastoral care." It further emphasized that such persons "are not in line for ordination."

Neal C. Wilson, vice president of the church for North America, in introducing the recommendation, stated "Since the whole body of the church has not seen light in ordaining women to the gospel ministry, it has made this recommendation."

The associates in pastoral care will carry either a missionary license or ultimately a missionary credential from the denomination.

Robert H. Pierson, president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, explained that "any position in the Adventist Church not requiring ordination to the gospel ministry is open to women who are members of the church."

The denomination is making a definite effort to include more women in its decision-making bodies and in positions of responsibility.

Dr. Pierson explained "for several years this subject has been under review by church leaders and theologists from many nations, both male and female. Currently we find no inspired evidence supporting the ordination of women to the gospel ministry.

"As a church we must move forward united on such an important matter.

Thus far, he added, all divisions of the world church, including North America, feel that we are not ready to make this move."

The council, which draws delegates from the ten world divisions of the church, also took action designed to "safeguard the integrity of the ministry."

It expanded its earlier requirements for ministers to be men of high moral standards, adhering strictly to the biblical Ten Commandments.

The new statement enlarged upon the interpretation of the seventh commandment, "Thou shalt not commit adultery."

It indicated "violations involving sexual perversions" would make void a pastor's ordination to the sacred office of the ministry.

The action added an offending minister, even though he might repent of his offense and be rebaptized as a church member, could never again serve as a minister or teach in the church.

In further action the council categorized "homosexual practices" as "a violation of the divine intention in marriage. As such," the council declared, "they are just cause for divorce."

Heretofore the church has held adultry to be the only acceptable cause for divorce. With this action it interprets the term "adultery" to include homosexual activities.

Other matters to come before the 317-member legislative body this week include the establishment of youth ministry seminars and better-living centers which provide health services to the community such as health-screening tests, classes in good nutrition and home nursing care, physical and occupational therapy, and specialized therapy for persons addicted to tobacco or alcohol.

Offices in the church which have become vacant at this time as a result of retirements will be filled, and the world budget of over $114 million for 1978 was approved. Next year's budget will be larger than and budget in the history of the church.

Courses Offered On Natural Type Of Birth Control

The Ovulation Method, a method of natural birth control, is currently being taught by Planned Parenthood of San Diego.

Also referred to as the Billings or Mucus Method, it was developed by Dr. John and Evelyn Billings in Australia through a reversal of the prosess used to achieve pregnancy.

It involves a procedure of checking and charting a female's ovulation cycle and the method os acceptable to most religions, including the Catholic Church.

Emma Pellettiri, Director of Patient Services at Planned Parenthood said, "The method teaches a woman an awareness of her cyclic period, using her own body's signals during the month to check and record fertility.

Final statistics aren't in, but preliminary reports indicate an effective rate of 75% to 99%.

After learning the method, and if the woman or couple desires, it is possible to combine the ovulation method with other natural or artificial methods of birth control, excluding the pill.

Two of the many advantages of the Ovulation Method are it's 100% harmlessness to the body and it can be used by women with irregular menstration or women who are breast feeding.

Although Planned Parenthood favors no particular method of birth control, studies show that the pill is still the most popular method, followed by sterilization.

Patient Educator at Planned Parenthood, Chris Burcham-Potts explained, "We offer instructional courses on most forms of birth control including natural and artificial methods, so a woman or couple can make an educated decision."

The courses are open to the public and there is no restriction regarding age or income.

The San Diego Planned Parenthood Association phone number is 231-1282.

Winning Chargers Test Lions In Sunday Game at Detroit

Sunday replay:

The Chargers trailed Miami 3-7 with 1:54 remaining in the game.

The Dolphins had the ball. Second and 4 at their 26 yard line. Running back Bennie Ma lone carried the ball into the middle, was hit by Tom Graham, and the Chargers' Gary (Big Hands) Johnson recovered.

The Chargers moved 28 yards in 10 plays in the final 1:48 for the tying touchdown. They launched 5 plays in the final 23 seconds, getting the final thrust underway with 2 seconds remaining. Quarterback James Harris went over from the 5. Tie. Rolf Benirschke made the placekick. Final score 14-13 Chargers!

It was like a top-rate television script.

Free safety Clarence Duren intercepting 3 of Bob Griese's passes in the second quarter. It tied the Chargers record for most interceptions in one game. Christ Fletcher did it at Denver November 30, 1975 The NFL record is 4.

So much for last week.

Sunday the Chargers meet the Detroit Lions in the Pontiac Silverdome. Kickoff is at 10 a.m. San Diego time.

San Diego is now 4-3; the Lions 3-4.

The Chargers have met the Lions twice. In the 1967 preseason the Lions helped dedicate the Stadium by defeating the Chargers 38-17. In 1972 the Lions again won with a 34-20 victory in the regular season at Tiger Stadium in Detroit.

If the Chargers win Sunday, they will have a 5-3 record, assuring the Chargers of their best record at this point since the 1968 team posted a 6-2 record after 8 games.

A year ago the Chargers were 4-3 but had already started a 4-game losing streak which reduced their standing from 4-2 to 4-6.

Head coach Tommy Prothro has a 1-1 record in games against Detroit. As head coach of the Rams in 1971 he directed a 21-13 victory at Detroit and a 34-17 defeat at Los Angeles.

The Sunday game will be telecast on TV 39 at 10. KSDO (1130) will provide coverage starting at 7:50 a.m. with the Pat Curran NFL Weekend Show. Charger Talk, with Bob Chandler and Bruce Walton starts at 8. The Tommy Prothro Show is at 9:35 and the game preview at 9:50. Charger Talk resumes after the Lockerroom Show following the game. Jerry Gross, John DeMott will be at the mike.

Tickets are now available for the Denver Bronco's game November 13 at the S.D. Stadium.

Mats 'Never in it' In 27-6 Fri. Fizzle

By Dan Danner

The Mt. Miguel Matadors saw their 5-game win streak come to an abrupt halt Friday night at the Santana Sultans upset the leaders 27-6.

It was a case of 'looking ahead' that spoiled the evening for the Mats and the homecoming crowd.

From the beginning it was all Sultans, a team that had to win to keep any idea of a playoff berth alive. The Mats were never in it.

The Matadors explosive offense was no more than a fizzle as the Sults shut down the running of Freddie Ceasar and Keith Morgan. The only bright spot was when Jerome Weatherspoon scored the lone six pointer on a John Caughlin 17-yard pass.

"We were flat. We tried to tell our players that Santana was a good team," said head coach Brian Smith, "We just played like we didn't want it."

There was no doubt about the Sultans' playing ability. They racked up 276 yards on 56 plays on the ground. The Mats were held to only two yards. Running back Steve Cotteen was the main man for the Sults as he finished the night with 164 yards on 32 totes. The entire Matador offense trailed Cotteen by 10 yards.

The Sultans are not noted for their running game. "We spent a lot of time working on our running game this week," said Sultan head coach Joe Di Tomaso. "We figured that we could run on them because they'd be looking for the pass."

The Mats defensive unit was without the services of linebacker John Swartz but it wasn't due to his absence that led to the success of the Sultans, it was a complete collapse of the defensive team.

What effect will last week's game have on the Matadors? "We haven't lost before, I'm not really sure what the effect will be," said coach Smith.

The answer to that will come Friday night as the Eagles fly into town with former Matador head coach Dwight Morris.

Game time is set for 8 p.m. at the Matadors home field.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

Bob Fontaine climbed aboard an airplane yesterday (Wednesday) and flew off to New York on a shopping trip the likes of which make most housewives in the world green with envy.

Fontaine is working under the non-handicap of an unlimited expense account. Bob is Ray Kroc's general manager and his mission is to draft major league ball players. Baseball's free agent draft is tomorrow.

Major League free agents are not free. They come high, right up there in seven-figure country. But when Kroc says he wants a group of them in Padre Brown next campaign, he backs his command with cold, hard cash.

And Ray has the cash to attract your attention and earn your respect. He's probably more solvent than the U.S. Treasury, the Bank of England and what ever passes for the Bank of Russia, all together. He's right near the top in personal wealth, right up there with the Pope and the King of Saudi Arabia.

When Ray sends someone shopping, they don't buy on time, and they don't penny-pinch.

The trouble is, there aren't an awful lot of seven-figure salary type ball players available in the free agent pool. And everybody wants the few who are there.

High on the Padre shopping list is a right-handed pitcher who can take charge of a game and keep right-handed hitting clubs honest.

Mike Torrez, Yankee right hander who captured a pair of World Series wins for the New Yorkers, was considered one of the prime picks of the draft, but he took himself out of the picture by signing with his old club.

Rich Gossage of Pittsburgh and Rawly Eastwick of St. Louis are the top remaining mound prizes. The bidding will be high.

Second on the Padre shopping list is left-handed power from any position other than left field. Gene Richards and Jerry Turner, two of the three Padre portsiders, play left field.

Next in priority, Fontaine will be looking for any blue chipper available to beef up already established positions with the idea of a major trade to provide a right handed pitcher and some left handed power.

"We can select as many as we want," reminded Fontaine on the eve of his departure. "But we can only sign four."

There are 19 six-year men and 33 option players in the pool made quite a bit larger by 34 minor leaguers. But only a few are of the blue chip variety Fontaine and Kroc are after.

"It's not going to be a cheap market," said Fontaine. "But you never go into something unless you think you have a shot. The Big thing is, you can get a player who can help you and you don't have to give up anything except money."

That makes sense to a baseball man. Money is just money, but a player can help you win games. Ray Kroc is not interested in money. He told the collected San Diego sports media not long ago he never wanted to earn another cent in profit as long as he lived.

What he wants to win are ball games. Right through the campaign and into the play-offs where he expects to win the last seven come hell or high water.

Kroc will join Fontaine for tomorrow's selections. He'll have his combination counsel, vice president and champion son-in-law, Ballard Smith with him. Each of the three Padre officials has a mission.

Fontaine will select the talent. Ray will pass on the price and Ballard will check the selectee's agent for loopholes and other hidden legalese. Four will eventually be signed and a major trade will be made.

And all the time you thought the baseball season was over.

Aztecs Take 6-1 Grid Record to San Jose (4-4)

Two of the top runners on the West Coast meet head-to-head Saturday when San Diego State travels to Stockton to meet the University of Pacific in a 7:30 p.m. game.

UoP's Bruce Gibson, who has rushed for 881 yards in eight games for a 110.1 average, leads his Tigers against the Aztecs and David (Deacon) Turner, who has 720 yards in seven games and a 102.8 average.

Gibson set a UOP record last week, luggihg the ball 39 times in a 24-7 Pacific win over San Jise State. Gibson picked up 127 yards against San Jose. The Tiger win ups their record to 4-4 while San Diego State goes into Saturday's contest with a 6-1 record. The Aztecs topped Tulsa 41-7 last week.

Turner played only in the first half against Tulsa and had 46 yards on 10 carries.

Pacific limited San Jose State to just 52 yards rushing last week on 29 attempts. The Tigers also limited the Spartans to 118 yards passing. The Tiger defense is tops in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in pass defense, allowing opponents just 115.5 yards per game.

The Aztecs hope to send a healthy Turner and quarterback Joe Davis against the Tigers. Davis is one of the top passers in the country, hitting on 97 of 168 passes for 1221 yards and 12 TD's. As a team, the Aztecs are averaging 220.9 yards passing, 180.9 yards rushing and 401.7 yards total offense.

"We know that we're going to be in for a battle against Pacific," said Aztec coach Claude Gilbert. "We have the utmost retspect for Chester Caddas (UOP coach) and the job he does. He has his guys really rolling now. They've knocked off Long Beach State and San Jose State back-to-back and that's pretty fair."

More Trout Planted At Lake Cuyamaca

Lake Cuyamaca continues its trout plants with 1,500 pounds in October and another 1,000 pounds scheduled for November. Fishing is good for trout with cheese and salmon eggs, and large catfish are still hitting on mackerel. Meal worms and red worms are working well for panfish.

Don't leave your stringer behind while shore fishing, the lake manager suggested. He reported a Great Blue Heron was seen gliding across the lake with seven trout dangling from his bill!

The Trout Derby continues with $10 gift certificates for bait and tackle being given weekly for the largest trout and the heaviest stringer of trout.

The largest Rainbow reported in October was 2 pounds 15 ounces caught by Russ Jackson of El Cajon.

The month's winner in each of the two categories will be awarded a handsome trophy with inscribed name plate.

Reservations are still being taken for duck hunting season, which opens November 16 and closes January 22, Hunting will be on Wednesday and Sunday mornings from legal hunt time until noon. Cuyamaca Lake phone is 765-0515.

Clark said members will, on a voluntary basis, submit membership fees at staggered times throughout the business year.

"The problem with the Chamber budget is not a lack of funds," Clark explained, "but an improper cash flow."

In the past the Chamber has been plagued with dwindling receipts during the months of November and December.

Also, Bob Holiday of Lemon Grove Motors, was named chairman of an advertising campaign to benefit Chamber merchants and to bolster up membership and support for CoC activities.

Marie Walrath of Gilbralter Savings and Loan was elected treasurer. Walrath replaces Bob Guest of Crocker Bank who temporarily held the position prior to an official election.

The rental business is so new that IRS lets us work out our own schedule of depreciation, he said.

The same thing that creates customers — the growing cost of equipment — is the same pressure that controls the starting of such enterprises.

"We started our business with about $6,000 worth of equipment," Sullivan said. "Today it would take about $150,000 just for the down payment with about 4 times that amount being carried as a loan."

He said his firm, at 8591 Paradise Valley rd., will expand its yard soon. "We just keep growing," he said.

In addition to Pat's and Jim's two others, Crest and Lemon Grove U-Rent are in the immediate area. In San Diego there are 50 such firms.

H'way 125 Outlook Meeting Draws 30

An informational meeting on the status of proposed Highway 125 drew 30 persons Thursday at Mt. Miguel High school auditorium.

The meeting was called by Lemon Grove City Councilman Jack Doherty and was directed at Blossom Hills residents and those who would be affected by the project.

Highway 125 will parallel Sweetwater rd. when constructed. Presently, no money is set aside for the project although traffic on Sweetwater is projected to double by the late 1980's.

Speaking at the meeting were Jim Gray, designer of 125, and Al Krier, DoT civil engineer.

Much of the interest however, regarded the placement of the Ildica st. interchange.

Doherty said he took a straw vote at the meeting which showed 17 voters preferring the highway with 4 opposed. 2 favored the Ildica interchange with 19 in opposition.

What is a City?

Motions

FINAL INSTALLMENT

Motions may usually be adopted by the "no objection" method unless any member prefers voice or roll call vote. This method of expediting a long agenda is common practice, and any defects are probably cured by the later approval of minutes which should reflect a "no objection" vote as "unanimously carried." Note: Approval of minutes should be effected only by voice or roll call vote.

Distinction Between Motion and Resolution:

1.) In most cases a resolution is little more than a formal motion set forth in a separate written document. In a few matters such as assessment procedures or rezoning, a resolution is required.

2.) Motions will generally suffice unless a resolution is specifically called for by law, or unless there is some reason for desiring the particular action formalized by separate instrument.

RELATIONSHIP OF COUNCIL TO ELECTORS

It must be remembered, that the councilmen are elected by all of the people to serve as representative of all of the people; authority and responsibility for legislative enactments are vested in the council.

California follows the council type of government where it is the function of the representatives to do that which in their best judgment is proper.

California does not follow the "Town Meeting" type of government where the people legislate.

Therefore, the council has authority to limit debate on any subject and to act in good faith regardless of the viewpoints of limited minorities.

The purpose of council meetings is for the council to debate openly on particular matters, to hear public expression thereon, and to inform the public of what the council is doing. No council is infallible and it is proper that public opinion be sought, but no councilman can permit his judgment to become subservient to the criticism of council meeting attendants.

Conversely, councilmen should remember that they are servants of the people, not free agents, in administering the affairs of government.

a.) It is the responsibility of the chair to control public debate so that repetitive or irrelevant remarks are not made; so that everyone has had a chance to speak before others speak for a second time; and to expedite the business at hand.

b.) The responsibility of making decisions is not easy nor without its problems, but it is the responsibility of councilmen to vote and decide issues, regardless of personal hesitation.

There will always be segments of the population dissatisfied with any decision. The purpose of government is to balance, legally, fairly and without favor, the limitations, restrictions or losses that are to be placed upon the individual or several individuals against the good, the benefit or welfare of or to a majority of the people.

The end.

Letters To The Editor

Backs Treaty

Dear Editor:

President Carter recently sent members of Congress an outline of the new Panama Canal Treaty, which will soon be sent to the Senate for ratification.

There will be two treaties. The terms of the first which should be somewhat reassuring to those who were afraid the Canal would be defenseless are:

"For the rest of the century, U. S. military forces will have the primary responsibility to protect and defend the Canal; the government of Panama guarantees the U. S. the right to station troops in Panama and to use all lands and waters necessary for the Canal's defense."

As for the more distant future: "The U. S. will have the permanent right to defend the neutrality of the Canal from any threats, for an indefinite period; U. S. warships will have the permanent right to transit the Canal expeditiously and without conditions, for an indefinite period."

The second treaty governs the operation and defense of the Canal through December 31, 1999. The President's two-page memo is scant on details of the treaties, and much more needs to be known before an informed judgement can be made.

No one knows, of course, what the world will be like in the year 2000 A.D.

The well-being of both Panama and the U. S. have been intertwined since the moment of Panama's independence.

With the new treaty arrangements giving Panama a greater share of Canal revenues, and with the step-by-step transfer of responsibility for the operation of the Canal to Panamanian management, it seems altogther likely that the friendship and the sense of mutual dependency between thet two nations will be enhanced.

The special privileges enjoyed by American government employees in the Canal Zone have made Panamanians feel like second class citizens in their own country. These special privileges are being phased out, thus removing a persistent source of resentment and ill-will.

Ambassadors Ellsworth Bunker and Sol M. Linowitz, in a letter accompanying the President's memo emphasized — and I agree — that the treaties have to do not only with the future of U. S. — Panama relations, but just as much with U. S. relation with all of Latin America.

It is well known that Latin American nations want the Canal protected for reasons of their own trade and defense, even as they sympathize with Panama's desire for control over the strip that cuts the nation in two.

To help in the economic development of Panama, the memo states, the U. S. has "pledged its best efforts, outside the treaty, to arrange for an economic program of loans, loan guarantees and credits."

I hope that the new treaties, along with this pledge of economic assistance, signalizes a new and coherent program of fraternal cooperation not only with Panama, but with all the nations of Latin America.

I mean by cooperation not only loans or loan guarantees. I mean the relaxation of barriers to trade and investment wherever they may exist, and the exchange of technical assistance where needed. I mean increased travel and cultural exchange.

I mean a great new United States initiative to bring North, Central and South America together in whatever areas we can be of help to each other.

The U. S. has reason to be proud of the Panama Canal, a historic triumph of American science, medicine, and engineering. In gradually relinguishing management responsibilities for the Canal to the Republic of Panama, we are not "giving away" anything.

We are, if I read the memo correctly, guaranteeing rights and privileges we must indeed retain; the permanent rights of access and the "permanent right to defend the neutrality of the Canal from any threat."

If the Panama Canal Treaties are indeed part of a fresh approach to our relations with all of Latin America, and if they look as acceptable in particulars as they do in outline, I am ready to support their ratification.

Sincerely,
Senator S. I. Hayakawa

'Champ's' Race Invites Megahertz

LOS ALAMITOS — Megahertz, a winner of more than $100,000 as a two-year old in 1976 and second-place finisher in the recent Stallion Stakes at Albuquerque, N.M., has received the latest invitation to the $100,000 Champion of Champions to be held at Los Alamitos, December 17.

Others already invited to the richest-ever Champion of Champions are A Zure Request, The Bulldogger, Native Creek, Chawne Bug, Bar Roula, Little Blue Sheep and My Easy Credit.

Jet Commanche, the original winner of the Stallion Stakes and previously invited to the 1977 Champion of Champions, was disqualified and placed last in the Stallion Stakes after post-race tests proved positive.

The winner of the Sunland Park Derby on November 27 will receive the 10th and final invitation to the Champion of Champions, the premier event of the Horsemen's Quarter Horse Racing Assn. meeting that kicks off action at Los Alamitos December 2.

Megahertz, a winner in 11 of 19 lifetime starts, has impressive credentials. The three-year-old son of Easy Jet finished second to 1976 two-year-old champion Real Wind in The Rainbow Futurity and also finished fourth in the Kansas Futurity. He amassed earnings of more than $130,000 in a two-year-old campaign in which he won eight of 14 starts.

This season, Megahertz has finished first three times and second once in five outings while earning more than $20,000. Among his many achievements are defeats over the late Lord Winsalot and three-year-old Triple Crown winner My Easy Credit in futurities last year.

Since its inception in 1972, the Champion of Champions has produced three world champions, and this year's field already boasts lifetime earning over $2 million. Also, this rich 440-yard dash carries a purse of $100,000 for the first time. The purse has expanded $25,000 each of the past two years.

Armed Robbers Awaken Victim And Take $300

It was a rude awakening for Fred Felix Diaz, a construction worker who lives at 8422 Garwood in Spring Valley.

The man awakening him did it with a small caliber handgun with which he tapped Diaz on the shoulder.

While one robber searched the house, the other argued that Diaz should have more than $300 which they found in the pocket of his trousers. ,The robber with the gun hit Diaz across the forehead when he insisted that he had no more money. The other robber carried a steak knife with a 4" blade and a flashlight.

During the search, the suspects took a 12 gauge shotgun and a .22 caliber rifle from a wall cabinet and tossed them into the hallway.

Nothing other than the money was taken. Diaz described the intruders as 16-20 years of age, males. One was a Negro, the other Mexican, he reported.

Riders Increase On Amtrak's San Diegan

SACRAMENTO — September's ridership figures for Amtrak's "San Diegan" service between Los Angeles and San Diego jumped 14,000 from 1976 figures.

Last month 54,318 people rode the trains, exactly a 14,422 passenger increase over one year ago.

The "San Diegan" was first expanded last year.

In the twelve months before Caltrans expanded the service in September, 1976, State Transportation Director Adriana Gianturco noted, "Amtrak ridership was 406,000. In the twelve months since September 1976, passengers total 691,000."

Speaker Presents 'Red Hot' Program

It wasn't exactly a usual employee rally for the United Way/CHAD Combined Campaign.

Anne Hoffman of La Mesa was about to show the appeal's new campaign film to members of the Casa de Oro Fire Department in Spring Valley when the alarm sounded and her audience hopped on a fire truck and sped away.

Hoffman, a loaned executive sponsored by Atlas Hotels, has rescheduled the rally.

Next time, she plans to tell the firemen about the Red Cross Disaster Assistance program, one of the over 200 services of United Way and CHAD agencies.

DMV Poll Shows Drivers Want Saturday Service

Many California motorists want the Department of Motor Vehicles to provide evening and Saturday service at local offices, automatically extend the driving privilege of people with good driving records, and issue driver's licenses good for eight-year or 12-year terms.

Those preferences are suggested by the results of a survey conducted for DMV by Field Research Corp., an independent polling firm, August 13 to 23.

The survey polled 1,100 randomly selected adults in personal in-home interviews on four questions about the department's service schedules and driver's license issuance program.

Saturday service in DMV's 147 local field offices was preferred by 21.4 percent of those polled, with 74.1 percent satisfied with weekdays only, and 4.5 percent either not answering or having no DMV business to conduct. The strongest preference for Saturday Service came from persons age 25 to 29, while persons 50 years of age or over generally felt any weekday was acceptable.

The survey results also showed 42.6 percent would like local department offices to be open after 5 p.m., with most wanting to conduct their DMV business between 5 and 7 p.m.

Monday-through-Friday office hours from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. were preferred by 46.5 percent. About 10.3 percent wanted field offices open at 7 a.m., with the remaining persons not reporting.

A 2-year pilot program is under way which allows DMV to tailor field offic service to better suit local needs, including being open on Saturdays in as many as 12 offices. DMV plans to effect the changes January 2.

Presently, a driver's license costs $3.25 and is good for four years. Survey participants were polled on their preferences for drivers license terms of 4, 8, or 12 years, with appropriate accompanying fees. The present term and fee was satisfactory to 40.2 percent, with 24.4 percent picking an eight-year term costing $6.50, and another 32.5 percent favoring a 12-year term for $9.25. No preference was indicated by 2.9 percent.

Survey participants were asked about the prospect of automatically extending drivers licenses for person with no tickets or accidents in the previous four years. No extension was preferred by 21.5 percent, one four-year extension was preferred by 21.8 percent, and 18 percent recommended extension as long as a driving record remained clean.

Another 36.2 percent of those polled felt DMV should continue to extend a driver's license without testing as long as the driver's health is good and their driving record remains accident and ticket free. No answer was given by 2.5 percent.

The Poll cost DMV $2,100.

Tax Postponement Forms Due This Week to Seniors

SACRAMENTO — The State Franchise Tax Board has been sending out to area senior citizens those property tax postponement claim forms.

Some 400,000 senior citizens statewide who has previously filed for property tax assistance should be receiving forms and instructions sometime this week.

Department operations officer Ray Mills clarified the differences between the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Program and the recently enacted Senior Citizens Property Tax Postponement Plan in a word — lien.

Mills said seniors owning their own homes qualify for both programs and have a choice of one or the other.

The Postponement Program allows senior homeowners to defer payment of property taxes to a later date. To collect these taxes, a lien is placed on the property and interest charges of seven percent are assessed.

The Assistance Program gives senior homeowners a rebate for part of their property taxes and no lien is placed against the property.

Mills reinterated on the Postponement plan stating owners may postpone payment of any past due taxes, penalties, or interest.

The deadline for filing for postponement is January 31, 1978.

Specific questions, Mills added, could be addressed to the local Franchise Tax Board office at 236-7540.

EDD Logs Gains In Placements

California State Employment offices in San Diego County have made about 8,000 more job placements in the past 12 months than in the same period a year ago.

The Employment Development Department (EDD) reported in the fiscal year just ended (October through September), EDD made 36,695 job placements, compared with 28,638 in the corresponding period in 1976.

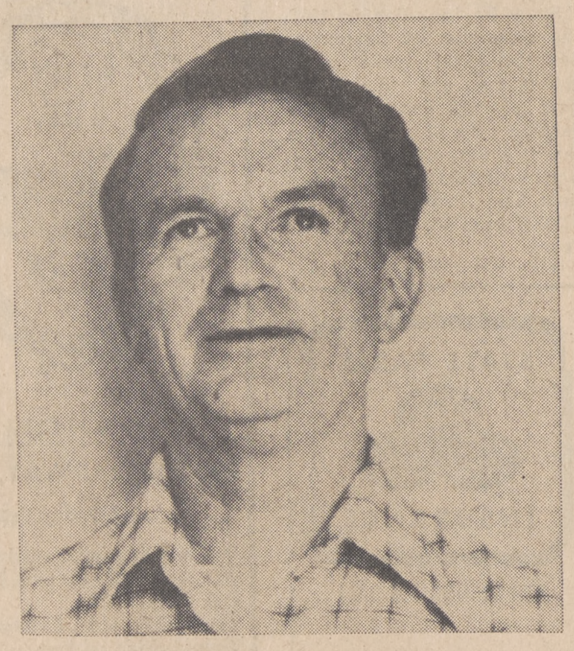
This represents an increase of 28.1 percent.

EDD officials attributed the big rise in placements over last year to an improving economy here and to the success of a new system used in in San Diego County that increase the accuracy of EDD's selection and referral process.

Albert Mendoza, District Administrator for the San Diego area, said the system, called Plan to Upgrade Service to Employers, increases the quality of the Department's service to the employers and applicants by providing streamlined referral practices, dispersing job information over a wide geographical area and emphasizing the flow of constructive and evaluative information between employers and placement staff.

A total of 3,747 job placements were made in September, a slight drop from the number made in the preceding month, but 56.6 percent higher than the figure for September 1976. The number of placements during September 1976 was 2,393.

A MESSAGE TO THOSE WHO DEPEND ON THE SPRING VALLEY FIRE DEPARTMENT FOR PROTECTION!



My name is Wally "Bunky" McPherson and I have lived in Spring Valley since 1941. I was graduated from Grossmont High school and S.D. State University with a B.A. degree. I also spent 2 years in the USN AF.

I delivered newspapers and sold magazines in Spring Valley as a boy. I was Ass't Scoutmaster of Troop 154, Homelands while I was in college and committeeman and transportation chairman for Troop 354, Casa de Oro.

I have been in business management for 25 years and used that experience successfully in my own manufacturing business for 15 years.

I have been president of the La Mesa Jr. C of C; director of the La Mesa and El Cajon Chambers of Commerce.

I was the appointed director of the Spring Valley Fire District board for 18 months to replace the deceased Stan Totten.

Being a member of this fine Fire Department with its competent management, convinced me to seek a 2 year term so that I can continue to serve the interest of citizens and taxpayers who demand good, local government.

The S.V. Fire District has good money-management and a well-planned and balanced budget.

A paramedic program was started this year by your board's action and a second unit will begin at Casa de Oro Station No. 2 early in 1978. I am proud to have helped start this service.

I promise to continue to hold spending to only those items which affect the safety of our community. Taxes have risen faster than wages so there is one thing we MUST do! We must be more prudent with the outgo of taxpayers' money!!.

As a director I believe that no government entity should spend more than is absolutely necessary.

As you can see, I'm for the little guy because I am a little guy; I'm for the taxpayer because I am a taxpayer.

My wife and I built our home here in 1953 and raised 3 children in it.

I solicit your vote on Tuesday November 8 so that I may continue to serve you as a thrifty director of the Spring Valley Fire District.

Committee to Elect Wally McPherson to the S.V. Fire Protection District.

Phone Refunds Due in Jan.

LOS ANGELES — The California Public Utilities Commission announced refunds totalling about $10 million will be credited to January bills of General Telephone customers.

Approximate refunds to one-party, flat-rate residential customers with one telephone will be $3.50.

Refunds to other customers will be porportional to their billings according to the number of main telephones and trunks they use.

The refunds are for the period from January 1976 to July 18, 1977, a period the PUC found errors in their calculations produced overcharges.

The PUC, erring in calculations of General Telephone expenses, allowed the company to assess some $10 million in overcharges from its customers.

Also involved in the miscalculations was Pacific Telephone who also plan refunds to customers.

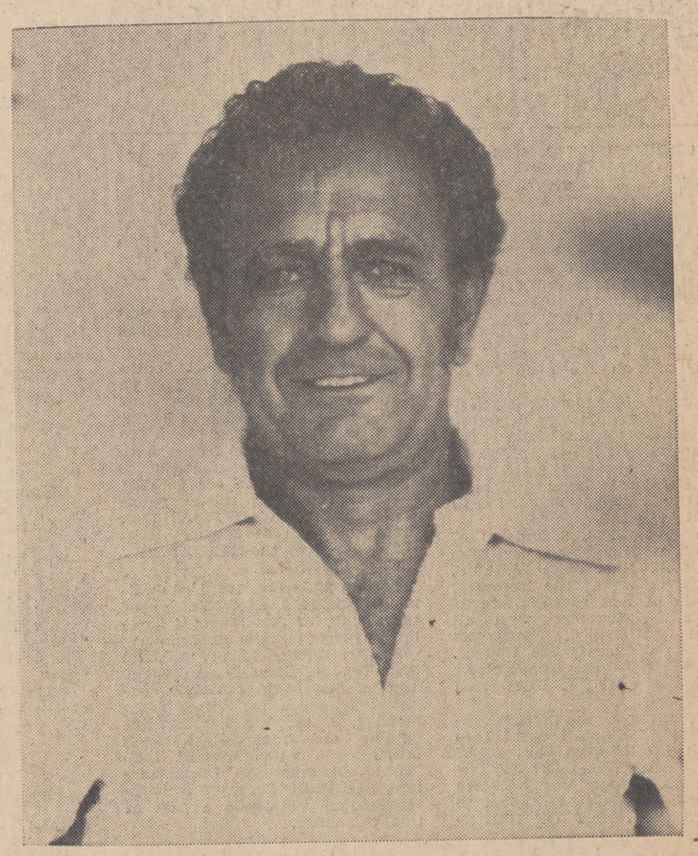
10362 Strawberry Lane, Spring Valley, CA 92077

My Name Is Art Schafer

I Seek Another 4-Year Term As Director of The Spring Valley Fire Protection District



I was born and raised in Kalispell, Montana.

In 1942, the U. S. M. C. brought me to San Diego where I have remained except for a three-year tour of the Pacific Islands during World War 11.

My wife and I have lived in Spring Valley since 1946 and have raised two children here. We have owned and operated Art's Lumber Yard for the past 22 years.

I was elected to the Board of Directors of the Spring Valley Fire Protection District eight years ago. I would appreciate your support in allowing me to serve another four-year term.

I truly enjoy the job and have a very deep interest in the safety and welfare of our Spring Valley residents.

I have realized the need for a second ambulance in the Casa de Oro area for some time, but we are financially unable to provide this service without further burdening the poor tax payer.

Last year, with government funding, we were able to get a paramedic program underway. I couldn't stand to see our old ambulance parked out of service so with director Wally McPherson's help, we managed to persuade the rest of the board to put the second paramedic unit together just under the deadline of goverment finalizations.

I find government spending programs distasteful but as long as they allocate our monies for a specified program, I believe in using our share because if we don't obtain the benefits locally, some other county will, and we have already paid for it through Federal taxes.

Our fire department is 100% first class, and although many of the expensive and sometimes useless programs are mandated by the government, I see no costly future programs such as these on the horizon so there is not a single reason why our tax rate can't come down next year. I will be fighting for a lower tax rate because, believe me, as a home and business owner here, I know the pain of our property tax bills. I will sincerely appreciate your vote on November 8 for another four-year term. Thank you.
